Autechrismo applicato

Come senz'altro sapete se seguite un minimo le faccende musicali, a partire dal 5 aprile gli Autechre hanno inaugurato una collaborazione con l'emittente NTS Radio che consiste in quattro session di due ore ciascuna, l'ultima delle quali è prevista per oggi, 26 aprile 2018. A luglio le session verranno raccolte in un corposo box (12 Lp nella versione vinile, oppure «solo» 8 cd se non siete in vena di spendere 140 sterline) pubblicato com'è ovvio da Warp, ma intanto i brani finora ascoltati ci permettono di ribadire innanzitutto due cose: la prima è che, come noto da tempo, gli Autechre restano ancora «più post-umani di te»; la seconda, è che queste NTS Sessions rappresentano una nuova vetta nella vertiginosa discesa del duo di Manchester tra gli abissi della più irraccontabile astrattezza algoritmica.

Come raccontare dunque questo mastodonte di otto (OTTO) ore, al di là del particolare che si tratta quasi certamente dell'apice di quella nuova fase (la terza? quarta? Quinta?) inaugurata dalla coppia con Exai del 2013? Quali vocaboli scegliere, a quale grammatica affidarsi quando a parlarti è una lingua che, arrivati a questo punto, risponde a intelligenze talmente impermeabili all'umana finitezza da frustrare qualsiasi tentativo di racconto e descrizione? In passato ci ho già provato, a dare un senso comprensibile a ciò che non chiede di essere compreso perché semplicemente è. E però non potevano che essere tentativi approssimativi, imprecisi, generici. E quindi da allora il dubbio mi attanaglia, mi corrode, mi ammutolisce: a quale alfabeto ricorrere, nel momento in cui dinanzi hai la prova di un'intelligenza talmente aliena da non contemplarti nemmeno?
